Saturday 15 March 2014

The annual day school will be held again at Leeds Metropolitan University, on the theme of 'Beyond the Building'. Speakers will illustrate how further work beyond a survey can add to the understanding and interest of a building, for example by using documents, maps, works of art or comparative studies. Price for members £26 with lunch or £17 without; non-members £30 with lunch or £20 without. Booking form enclosed with last Newsheet and also available on the YVBSG website. The day school will be followed by the group's Annual General Meeting.

Visit to Barningham

June 2014 – exact date to be confirmed

In the 1980s and early 1990s the Tees and Greta Section of the former North Yorkshire and Cleveland Vernacular Buildings Study Group surveyed fourteen buildings in this small northern dales village, six miles SE of Barnard Castle. We plan to organise a walkabout in the village and perhaps view a cruck (a northwesterly outlier in the geographical distribution) in-situ in one of the houses. Please register your interest by contacting David Cook, dcook0@talk21.com or 01325 310114.

Discussion Day for Conference Team Leaders

Saturday 26 July 2014

This day will provide a chance for them to share information with other team leaders and discuss the buildings recorded.

Conference Review Day

Sunday 28 September 2014

An opportunity for all to hear about the buildings recorded during the Sedbergh conference to be held in May.

Interested in joining the committee?

If you're interested in playing a more active role in the Group, we have a vacancy on the committee. We meet twice a year mainly to arrange events and plan ways of spreading the word about the significance and importance of the buildings we've recorded. We would like someone to field enquiries and particularly to co-ordinate requests to look at buildings. We usually meet in an interesting building and combine committee meetings with a visit or walkabout. Please contact me if you're interested.

For the forthcoming recording conference we'd also like to encourage others to lead a recording group and take responsibility for producing the final report – these needn't be the same person (but quite often are). We'd like to provide some training beforehand and would urge anyone interested to contact me to discuss.

Some new (and not-so-new) publications

A History of Abbey House, Kirkstall by Alastair Laurence, 2013. Written by a YVBSG member, this is a history of a fascinating and complex building which since 1927 has housed the Abbey House Museum in Leeds (www.leeds.gov.uk/abbeyhouse). The stone-vaulted core of the house is the former inner gatehouse to Kirkstall Abbey, built for the Cistercian monks as long ago as the second half of the twelfth century. Following the Dissolution of the Abbey in 1539, the gatehouse was at some point converted into a dwelling house. The book outlines the development of the building and offers a picture of its occupants, ranging from the Lords Savile during the seventeenth century, to the Ellis family who were tenants when Abbey House became more of a rustic farmhouse during the eighteenth century, through to the wealthy industrialist tenants of the nineteenth century. Around £10.

The Yellow Book for 2014 published by the National Gardens Scheme (NGS) is now available at £9.99. Alternatively, details of gardens open to the public can be found at www.ngs.org.uk, including gardens surrounding seventeenth century houses that the YVBSG has visited, and at least one garden owned by a YVBSG member! Searching will find over 2,500 results.

Recording Standing Buildings by Barbara Hutton. A guide to the technique used by the author and other YVBSG members to record vernacular buildings. First published in 1986, new edition available 2013. £6 + £1.50 p&p. <http://rescue-archaeology.org.uk>, telephone 01992 553377.

Medieval Studies in the Yorkshire Dales: aspects of history, archaeology and landscape, edited by RD Martlew. Proceedings of a conference held in Grassington, October 2012. Contents include: Interpretations of Fourteenth-Century Malham from Documentary Sources by Mike Spence; A field survey in the Manors of Ingleton and Twisleton-and-Elberbeck: piecing together the evidence by Dr David Johnson; Legacy of Medieval Building in the Craven Dales by Susan Wrathmell; and others. £10 + £1.50 p&p from YDLRT, Chapel Beck, Kettlewell, Skipton BD23 5RL, making cheques payable to Yorkshire Dales Landscape Research Trust. Order form available at http://ydlrt.co.uk/two_book_order_form.pdf.

Courses

Digital Survey and Recording for Historic Buildings

Digital photography is often seen as the most efficient way to record a historic building, but inputting and handling the images can be complex and take time. This masterclass will introduce participants to new software that makes processing digital images into 3D models much easier. Armed with their own digital camera, participants will record a simple structure before modelling a 3D version during the day. Although this method of rectified photography produces a less detailed visual record than either laser scanning or photogrammetry, the ease with which it can be used means it is ideal for recording small vernacular sites. Friday 11 April 2014. Fee £95 (£85 concessions). See University of York website www.york.ac.uk/archaeology/short-courses/ or telephone 01904 435213.

Early Fabric of Beverley

As reported in the last Newsheet, the YVBSG will shortly commence a project in Beverley funded by English Heritage's 'Early Fabric in Historic Towns' programme. It is hoped that this project will enable us to secure dendrochronological surveys on selected buildings and extend the number of YVBSG surveys of buildings in the town. We will publish the findings and present them at various events in Beverley. We expect that work will start in summer 2014 and finish by the end of 2016.

The YVBSG committee has set up a project group comprising David Cook (Project Manager), David Cant, Barry Harrison, Lorraine Moor and Jacky Quarmby to oversee the work. Recording and other events will be open to all and details will be advertised in due course, but we would welcome members who are particularly interested in getting involved in this exciting project, for example by attending training, taking part in a buildings survey, or helping with the administration and organisation. Please contact David Cook 01325 310114 or dcook0@talk21.com if you are interested.

Members' Area and membership renewal

Do keep an eye on the Members' Area of the YVBSG website as we continue to add new items to it. The password to this area changes every January and those of you who have renewed your membership for 2014 will find the new details in your membership letter (or send an email at any time to webmaster@yvbsg.org.uk for a reminder). If you haven't yet renewed your membership, you'll find a renewal slip enclosed with this Newsheet!

Tony Tolhurst Bursary

In memory of Tony Tolhurst, who died in November 2013, the Group is pleased to offer two bursaries of £150 each to help pay for attendance at the annual recording conference. Application form enclosed with this Newsheet and also available on the website. Any enquiries may be directed to David Cant.

Editorial team vacancy

There is a vacancy on the Yorkshire Buildings editorial team for anyone interested in writing or editing articles for publication, proof reading or preparing drawings for publication. The team meets every month in York, usually on a Wednesday afternoon. If you are interested, please contact either Beth Shurter (york.beth2@hotmail.com), Tony Berry (tony_berry@hotmail.co.uk) or Tony Robinson (bridgetandtony@hotmail.com).

Poles apart!

If you have in your possession one of the vertical measuring poles belonging to the Group, could you let Jacky Quarmby know, please? We'd like to ascertain their current locations before the recording conference.
